Canopy of Heaven, Chariot of Earth

Speaker

Paul Sun AIA

5:30 p.m.

Boston Architectural Center

October 13, 1982

Paul Sun AIA, a direct descendant of the Dowager Empress of China and a frequent visitor to the mainland in recent years, has become justly famous for his splendid slide presentations on the classical architecture of his native land. Paul has travelled and lectured to architects in every corner of the People's Republic, and his slides depict many facets of Chinese architecture.

Paul Sun AIA, who recently led an EARTHWATCH expedition team in a study of the vernacular architecture of the Northwest Provinces of China will share his experience and research results with a slide/lecture on the indigenous dwellings of the Provinces of Shaanxi and Gansu, and the autonomous regions of Ningxia and Xinjiang. These dwellings reflect adaptability and utilization of natural environment as well as aspects of regional characteristics in the spirit of the Islamic culture.

This lecture offers a unique opportunity to see parts of China previously inaccessible to Westerners.

Refreshments Served

October 16, 1982

The Charles Street Meeting House was built in 1804-1807 by Asher Benjamin. It has seen many uses in its history. It was in rapid order the First, Second and Third Baptist Church. Until recently it was affiliated with the Unitarian Universalist Association. In 1979 it was acquired by John Sharratt AIA who has renovated it for offices, commercial and residential use.

John will present the challenge encountered in taking a building on the National Register and turning it to current use without any alteration of the exterior.

Design Open Committee Meeting in Cambridge, Mass.

The AIA Design Open Committee will be meeting in Cambridge on October 21 and 22, 1982 from 9-5.

We hope that you will be able to take advantage of this opportunity to participate in AIA's open committee system. The meeting is held in conjunction with ACSA and will consist of a series of lectures and panel discussions with practitioners who are new graduates in the Boston area. The registration fee is $75.00 and further information and registration material can be obtained from Mr. John Gaillard, the committee's staff executive at 202-626-7363.

Rotch Foundation Scholarship — 1982

Norman C. Fletcher, FAIA, Secretary of the Rotch Travelling Scholarship, announces one Scholarship for the 1983 Competition. The Winner of the Scholarship will be known as the 1983 Rotch Scholar (stipend $13,000 for eight months foreign travel plus an additional payment of $1,000 made upon the completion of the Scholar's travels and the submission to the Secretary of a satisfactory report accepted by the Rotch Travelling Scholarship Committee within fourteen months from the date the Scholar begins his/her travels).

Applicants must be citizens of the United States, under thirty-five years of age on March 10 of the year of the competition; must have a degree from an accredited school of architecture plus at least one full year of professional experience in an architectural office in Massachusetts; or have received a degree from an accredited Massachusetts school of architecture and had at least one full year of professional experience in an architectural office not necessarily in Massachusetts; or have received a certificate from the Boston Architectural Center signifying satisfactory completion of the former five-year program and the required thesis and have had four years of professional experience in an architectural office. Applicants graduating from the Boston Architectural Center since the degree-granting program may submit their degree as qualification and need only have one year of professional experience in an architectural office.

Please note that requests for application forms must be made in writing and shall be received no later than Friday, January 7, 1983. These requests should be addressed to: Norman C. Fletcher, Sec. Rotch Travelling Scholarship, 46 Brattle Street, Cambridge, MA 02138.

Capital Planning and Operations

The Division of Capital Planning and Operations has instituted new procedures in compliance with the Construction Reform Act of 1980. Ranked selection with a lump sum set fee is the procedure being followed. The Chapterletter will report this process as we did with competitive bidding.

1982 Build Massachusetts Awards Program/AGC

AGC of Mass. is preparing to repeat the Build Massachusetts Awards Program held last year.

The main requirements are that the project was built by a General Contractor member of AGC of Mass., and that it was completed during the twelve months prior to October 1, 1982.

Last year, seventeen major projects were honored at an Awards Ceremony that climaxed the 1981 Program. For each winning project, the Owners, Architects and Contractors received equal recognition. Over 500 attended the ceremony.

Again this year the purpose of this annual Build Massachusetts Awards Program is to focus attention on excellence in project concept, design and construction. As pointed out by Don Blair, Chairman of the Program, "it is vitally important that those of us in the construction industry and related professions have a reputation for excellence and that clients and project users have confidence in our ability to perform."

For more information please call Don Blair at 661-8200.

Outreach Committee Meeting

The Outreach Committee will meet on Thursday, October 21, 1982 at 12:00 noon, at the Boston Architectural Center, 6th Floor. The meeting's format will be structured around an informal discussion consisting of practicing architects from small, medium and large firms.

They will give their views on the nature of contemporary architectural practice. The Committee will extract from this "Brainstorming session" characteristics architects possess before and during a career in architecture. The results will be used to improve the level of advisement to secondary school students considering a career in architecture.

The discussion will be moderated by Roselyn Frank, Director of the State Dept. of Education program for gifted and talented children. Participants are Herb Knonish, AIA, TAC Associate; Don Stull FAIA, Stull Associates, and others.

If interested in participating, please contact Hezekiah Pratt at 426-0406.

BAC Plans Program In Energy Conscious Design

The Boston Architectural Center (BAC) will present a series of seminars on energy-conscious design, beginning October 20, 1982. The program is entitled "Office Building Design for the 80's: Issues of Energy, Form and Performance". Architects, engineers, builders, and building owners and managers are invited to attend.

The Fall program will include three evening presentations, a full-day symposium and a half day workshop. The Institute for Energy Conscious Design is also sponsoring an evening series of nine lectures on daylighting design, starting October 5.

The program is endorsed by the Boston Society of Architects; the American Society of Heating, Refrigeration and Air Conditioning Engineers; the Institute of Real Estate Management; the New England Innovation Group Inc., the Building Owners and Managers Association; and the Builders Association of Greater Boston.

Once again on August 28 (for the seventh consecutive year), The Friends of Sandcastles, Inc., sponsored their annual sandcastle competition at Steep Hill Beach, Ipswich, Mass. With the sunny weather welcoming the competition, the entrants waited in long lines outside the entry gate from 8 until 10 a.m. in an effort to get an early start on the day-long effort. Some travelled from such faraway states as New Jersey and Michigan.

Entrants followed a clearly defined set of guidelines including a theme ("A Place in Time"), a list of "iron-clad rules and regulations" and judging criteria as follows:

1. Imagination/Vision/Creativity
2. Interpretation of Theme
3. Technical Brilliance/Mastery of Medium
4. Mood and Atmosphere
5. Delight of Builders in their Enterprise and Comraderie
6. Sense of the Ineffable

After much deliberation by the judges this year, the highest award of the day, "The Coveted Golden Shovel Award" went to Priestley/Sterling, Inc. alias "Samurai Architects" for their creation of the famed 16th century Japanese Castle complete with the fully landscaped courtyards, Bonsai trees, and rock gardens. The original was built by the Ikko Sect of Buddhist Monks on an island in the Yodo River. The castle is famous as the last to fall to the Shogun in the unification of Japan in May of 1580. Its two strengths were: 1) that it stood in the middle of a river and 2) that it consisted of five separate but interlocking fortresses which could be sealed off and defended separately. After taking it, the Shogun immediately added to the structure and made it his headquarters, the present day Osaka Castle.

Since no visual records of the original were available, the sandcastlers were left to their own imaginations to work with the limitations of sand. Wearing T-shirts bearing a silkscreen print of a Samurai warrior, the castlers built an island that was 12' x 16' and a castle that stood 5' high from the level of the "river" bed. To finish the effort, they submitted a Haiku poem on the subject:

'round Ikko Castle
stand a million warrior monks —
the Yodo River.
